IV. SUMMARY OF ACTIVITY:

REYKJAVIK

1. In late March, JBPARNON was visited by Said Krysziu, Abas Brusnje and G. Gogo, members of INTEIGR. They were escorted to Munich by [ ]. Together, [ ] who had arrived from Frankfurt, and [ ] met with the three representatives and the temporary C.O. at JBPARNON at which time the representatives expressed their appreciation of the present manner with which JBPARNON administrative policies are conducted, paying special tribute to the temporary C.O. Several minor administrative issues were amicably resolved with the temporary C.O. clarifying his functions as set by higher authority. Later, at an assemblage of the entire INWAHCO complement, the representatives delivered speeches keynoting several points outlined by [ ]. Emphasis was placed on the part JBPARNON will play in the overall picture of operations and the cooperation desired between the military with respect to its interests vis-a-vis JBPARNON and the JBPARNONITES themselves. Results indicate that these visits create continued interest among the JBPARNONITES with regard to present duties as well as a sober expectation of future assignments.

2. All but two JBPARNONITES have been issued the Fremden Pass. This documentation should be completed within several days.

3. No letters from Isuf Muja were received during this reporting period. Muja states that he expects to receive several letters from his nephew within a short time. Muja thinks that his nephew is presently in northern INWAHCOLAND. [ ] continues to pay Muja the Deutsche Mark equivalent of $20.00 per month.

4. Construction by the Military of a three story Mess-Billet at JBPARNON will be completed by early June, 1953. The entire JBPARNON INWAHCO complement will be housed in this structure, thus enabling the Temporary C.O. to reshuffle present billet arrangements whereby the several political factions are grouped according to party interests. This change in billet assignments should help to further eliminate partisan sentiment and offer added opportunity for us to encourage unified action and endeavor.

5. In mid-April, Vath Capelli, who had arrived from Rome, was met and
